HAPPENINGS IN THE BASE BALL WORLD

WEATHER MAN AGAIN BUSY

Game Postponed Monday at Canton.

WORK AT THE GROUNDS

Being Rushed Along in Most Pleasing Manner.

Management Feels Confident That Webb Park will be in Readiness for Opening Game.

The Line Barbers met with some more bad weather yesterday at Canton and were unable to play. The team has had four games called off on account of the rain since leaving here and the result has been a rather severe financial loss to the management. Under fair weather conditions the team would be in good condition by this time and practically all of the men would have been given at least one trial.

Within a few days after the opening of the O. and P. season, on May 1, arrangements will be made to open the local amateur baseball season at Garfield park and it is expected that the various leagues organized under the direction of the Y. M. C. A. will be much more successful than was the case last year.

The diamond at the park is being put in condition for playing under direction of the street commissioner's department and the latter part of this week there will be daily practice on the grounds. The coming of the O. and P. league to Marion will undoubtedly do much to boost the amateur baseball here. It is expected that at least four leagues will start the amateur season. Each league will be composed of at least four teams and probably more.

A large number of base ball enthusiasts went to Delaware yesterday and witnessed the Wesleyan-Milwaukee baseball game. The game ended with a score of 20 to 10 in favor of the visitors. Cliff Curtis, of Delaware who pitched here on many occasions in the past joined the Milwaukee team there yesterday and pitched the game having no trouble in defeating the collegians.

NOTICE MERCHANTS.

The opening of the local baseball season is just fifteen days away, and the opening day will roll around before one is aware of the fact. The merchants of Marion are to the man interested in the success of the team and some are willing to help boom the game in more ways than one.

A well known merchant today asked the Mirror man to start up the prize proposition at once and see how many of the business men of Marion would offer prizes to members of the local team. In other cities of the Ohio and Penn. league, merchants give prizes for the various events. The prizes consist of hats, shoes, suits of clothes, gloves, neckties, cigars, money, suit cases, etc., in fact any article that would be useful to a baseball player.

The Mirror would suggest prizes for the following events and a list of the donors will be published in this paper upon the return of the team to the city three days before the local season opens.

For the first home run made by a Marion player at Webb park after season opens.

For the first three base hit.

For the first run scored for Marion.

For the pitcher that officiates in the first shutout game at home.

AROUND THE BASES.

Curt Elston's infant child is dangerously ill at Marietta, O., and Elston will not report at Lancaster until there is a change in the little one's condition.

Last fall Marty Hogan offered Gilligan a job. The Marion infielder never answered his letter. Now Ferd Trumm has let him go, and he wants to go to Zanesville, but Marty refuses even to answer his application.

Percy Stetler surely has a funny combination behind the bat at Steubenville. Eddie Lanson is a Mexican, and Tommy Murray, who will probably be the other regular firststop, is a full blooded Irishman.

In the cities where the O. & P. season will be opened preparations are being made for a rousing time. At Marion Ferd Trumm and his crew will head a parade which promises to rival Barnum & Bailey's.—Akron Peacock Journal.

Captain Starr of the Youngstown team has been playing Curley Blount in middle field and may decide to play him in that position permanently. Curley prefers the middle garden to right, and would like to see the shift made.

Harry Lindsay, who pitched for New Castle and Sharon last season, will be with York, Pa., of the Tri-State, this season.

Water East is cutting his squad down rapidly. A whole lot of Walter's much touted material was found to be of the waiting-quality sort.

Sam Wright, of Youngstown, has discovered that Mike Lawrence, the Florida, Ill., outfielder, is a phenom. Akron's series with the Wheeling team of the Central league has been declared off on account of the poor condition of the Wheeling grounds.

Buff Elman will not work in Akron's exhibition games. The youngers only will be allowed to show their form.

Breen will depend on Justus & Johns to do the twirling for the Lanks in their exhibition series. The Lank squad is growing daily and looks formidable as the men continue to come.

The Lancaster team has organized a quartette to furnish the vocal end of the program during the season. Justus, Humphreys, Campbell and Piper are the four with the melodious voices.

Catcher Harry Kunkle, formerly of Akron and later of the "Lanks" and Cincinnati, is out for a job. He is a good back stop.

Paddy Green, an ex-eastern leaguer, has been signed by New Castle. He will be tried out at third.

Sharon is the greatest mystery in the league. Manager Kling has collected a lot of unknown players and has retained the good ones from the old club. Kling is a hustler and it's doubtful that Sharon will not finish last this season, says Harry Nelly in the Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Frank Locke, it is reported, has decided that he will not catch again. He did some nice work for the Lanks last season but wants to play in the outfield hereafter.

"Walter Justus," the cannon ball twirler of the Lanks, is in good condition this spring and says he will make the bunch go some for the honors. He arrived in Lancaster last Saturday, looking like a fashion plate. Patent leather low cut kicks, a college bid, a light tanned benny striped pants and a zephyr like voice and as he walked toward George Tannehill's tailwalk shaking hands right and left, with the boys and girls, he was busily engaged in humming that beautiful tune, "Back to the Old Home Once Again."

Tallest Giraffe in World

Animal Has to Occupy Center of the Great Circus Tent.

Those who take delight in inspecting zoological displays will find many new specimens to look at in the menagerie of Adama Forepaugh and Sells Bros., circus. To begin with, the menagerie is the largest in America. It contains 100 cages filled with the rarest curiosities of animal life, besides three herds of elephants, a score of camels and such animals as llamas, water buffalo, Philippine cattle and giraffes which are displayed in pens.

The biggest giraffe in captivity—so big that it must be placed in the center of the tent—is one of the great curiosities of this department. The only rhinoceros in America and as fine a specimen of its kind as ever came out of the jungle is another of the exclusive features of the zoo, and a pair of hippopotami are objects of great interest. Besides these a strange human-like chimpanzee, a blood-sucking leech, South African wart-hogs, nyghaus, black and white yaks, ibexes, gnus, kangaroos with young and 100 other novelties from jungle and forest are on view.

The performance in the main pavilion is all new in the creation of ideas and in faces. Of the 300 performers the majority are from Europe and are making this year their first appearance in America.

As a fitting introductory to so strikingly an original program, another fortune has been spent in the creation of the great fire drama which occupies in its presentation the entire arena of the greatest canvas pavilion ever erected. Besides 1,000 people, 500 horses, vehicles and a metropolitan company of firemen with engines, hose carts, hook and ladder wagons, standpipes and ambulances, an entire trainload of scenery, costumes and properties is used.

The Forepaugh and Sells Bros. circus will be seen in Marion on Monday April 22. The parade will take place at 10 in the forenoon, followed by a performance at 2 o'clock and another in the evening at 8 o'clock.

COMMUNICATION.

Dear Sir:—I feel it my duty to write this letter, and appeal to you to please find space in the columns of your paper to publish same. Your article in Saturday's issue "Officials to enforce law." No chance to escape the duty. In the first place what is law? And who makes them? Why don't people make their own laws, instead of electing a few to make them for the many? If our law making body should pass a law requiring one hundred dollars or five hundred per year, would there be "no chance of escape" or pass a law disfranchising three fourth of the people. Or to behead a certain amount of people annually. So as not to cause (what they term) over production in labor. If there is "no way of escape" then we are in a very bad state of affairs. And we had better send over to Africa for some black missionaries to civilize us. No doubt its law in Russia that compels the workers to pay tribute to the Czar that made him the richest man in the world. And in this country the workers pay to John D., the richest man in the world this tax of three dollars imposed upon the people. The people that have any thing besides their muscle to sell, will add the three dollar tax on and dump it off on the people that have nothing but their muscle to sell. The working people now are over-burdened with tax, and they are simply eluding out an existence instead of living. If the working people of Marion "stand pat" or in other words refuse to "work or pay" this tax imposed upon them they could never collect a cent. If the people pay this tax next year they will impose a greater tax knowing that the people are "so easy." Whenever the "grafter" wants some graft money he starts something in the way of tax. If they had many cases like the Thaw case, they (the grafters) would break the state of New York, (or rather the people.)

"The system" is to blame, and every one that supports the system by their ballots will be held guilty of murder before the Central court. Many a person has starved or frozen to death on account of being taxed their full value of labor deducting only an existence. Then when they were through with labor they turn them out to starve or freeze. Mr. Editor you know the remedy, and as a moulder of public opinion why don't you teach them how to live? We only have one way out of the difficulty. Let each and every one receive the full value of their labor deducting running expenses only, let the nation own the trust.

Yours Truly,
A SUBSCRIBER.

TWAIN'S FRIENDS WERE MANY.

Little Jean Thought He Had Almost Reached the Limit.

We had recently arrived in Berlin, and had begun housekeeping in a furnished apartment. One morning at breakfast a vast card arrived—an invitation. To be precise, it was a command from the emperor of Germany to come to dinner. During several months I had encountered socially, on the continent, men bearing lofty titles; and all this while Jean was becoming more and more impressed, and awed, and subdued, by these imposing events, for she had not been abroad before, and they were now to her—wonders out of dreamland turned into realities. The imperial card was passed from hand to hand, around the table, and examined with interest; when it reached Jean she exhibited excitement and emotion, but for a time was quite speechless; then she said: "Why, papa, if it keeps going on like this, pretty soon there won't be anybody for you to get acquainted with but God." It was not complimentary to think I was not acquainted in that quarter, but she was young, and the young jump to conclusions without reflection.—North American Review.

The Boy and the Kite.

In a large warehouse in Liverpool a boy named Edward Scott was employed to run errands. There were many rats about the place and he was told that if he could catch one and singe it all the others would leave. A trap was set and a rat was caught but while singeing its tail according to directions the lighted paper blew into a pile of straw and started a conflagration that burned four big buildings and inflicted a loss of half a million dollars. There are some smart boys in this world, but there are also some smart rats, and it is just as well to keep them apart. If the rat had caught the boy and singed his hair there might have been eight buildings burned.

The Value of Water.

Medically, the internal use of water does more good than its external use. The man who drinks from a pint to a quart of clean pure water the first thing in the morning on getting out of bed will be in better health than the man who uses water only externally and rarely drinks water straight. The best way to do is to take a clean water bath both inside and outside every morning, and during the warm weather every evening also. It will cleanse the system better than the contents of any drug store. A bath tub factory is the natural foe to the medical college and the undertaker.

The Bothersome 'Phone.

Except in business offices, hotels, police stations, and the like public places, telephones should be forbidden. There is neither peace nor privacy in the home in which these instruments find admittance. One's time and pleasure and very sleep are at the mercy of every gossip and busybody in the town. The women, children and servants of the house hold all catch the hello fever, and life becomes a long nightmare of belling, wrong calls, yes-yesses, busy-nesses, and other distracting noises.—Virginia Pilot.

Discipline Hint.

Instead of punishing children learn to talk quietly with the little one about its disobedience or misbehavior, says a writer. "Take it plain to the small boy and girl why they are in the wrong and encourage them to give a reason for their misconduct. Tell them kindly how to avoid a similar difficulty in the future. In other words make love the basis of discipline, and obedience will be prompted by the thought that mother or father will be displeased with an unkind act."

Didn't Work.

"I wonder why it is," remarked one of the two men who had just lunched, turning to speak to the other, "that they always have pretty cashiers at these restaurants." But the pretty cashier, though she blushed and smiled, did not fail to detect the Canadian quarter he threw down in payment of his check.

Accuracy.

The food inspector's wife was looking over her husband's notebook. "George," she said, "how do you pronounce the last syllable of this word, 'buttermilk'?" "The last syllable," the inspector answered, "is always silent."

The Comment of All.

"Every man has some delusion."

"Yes, especially if it wears petticoats."

RISING BREAST

And many other painful and serious ailments from which most mothers suffer, can be avoided by the use of "Mother's Friend." This great remedy is a God-send to women, carrying them through their most critical ordeal with safety and no pain.

No woman who uses "Mother's Friend" need fear the suffering and danger incident to birth; for it robs the ordeal of its horror and insures safety to life of mother and child, and leaves her in a condition more favorable to speedy recovery. The child is also healthy, strong and good natured. Our book "Motherhood," is worth its weight in gold to every woman, and will be sent free in plain envelope by addressing application to Bradfield Regulator Co. Atlanta, Ga.

MOTHER'S FRIEND

BREAKS THE FARO RECORD.

Tonopah Sport Loses $300,000 in One Session with the Bank.

Tonopah, Nev.—All records for plunging in gambling games were broken here when Abe Brown, part owner of the Tonopah club, the famous gambling resort of southern Nevada, lost $300,000 in one sitting.

While Brown gambled away $300,000 in less than 24 hours, he is actually a loser but $200,000, as he is a one-third owner in the game in which he lost his fortune and one-third of his loss is his winning as part proprietor. The Tonopah Gambling club is owned by Brown, Kennedy and George Wingfield, the millionaire mine owner of Goldfield. Brown started in to play faro in his own house and in a short time lost over $25,000. He wanted the limit taken off the game, but the dealers could not do this without the consent of the other two partners in the game. Accordingly George Wingfield was called up at Goldfield and the situation explained to him. Wingfield told the manager of the house to raise the limit to $5,000. The regulation limit is $50.

Brown started in to bet $5,000 on a single card. Luck was with him at first and in a short time he was nearly $100,000 ahead of the game, but fortune suddenly switched to the other side of the faro layout and Brown lost heavily. According to the best reports the battle of dollars waged for 20 hours and finally Brown had $300,000 in markers standing against him in the layout drawer.

WAS JILTED FOUR YEARS AGO.

Millionaire Waited Patiently and Now the Capricious One Has Relented.

Cleveland, O.—The romance interrupted four years ago by her marriage was resumed by Miss Mabel Hart, who was Mrs. Philip McAbee. She has been married at the home of her parents to John Gilchrist, son of the millionaire vessel owner. It is the second time the young woman had been engaged to Gilchrist.

Years ago John Gilchrist and Mabel Hart were sweethearts in Palmyra, where their parents had summer homes. It was a "settled" affair. Then entered Philip McAbee upon the field. Miss Hart favored him, the parents frowned and the two eloped almost upon the eve of her marriage date to Gilchrist.

After a brief honeymoon they came home and Frank W. Hart, the father, also a millionaire, had a carriage waiting at the depot. The bride was bidden to choose between parental love and millions and McAbee. She rode home with her father, leaving McAbee behind.

Later she applied for a divorce, but McAbee refused to allow an excuse. Finally McAbee consented to a divorce. Gilchrist and Mrs. McAbee repudiated their troth and set the date.

Digs Up City of Homer's Day.

Berlin.—Announcement that Wilhelm Dorpfeld, head of the German archaeological institute at Athens, has discovered in the island of Ithaca what he believes to be the remains of a Homeric city, has greatly interested archaeologists.

Remnants of the walls and of monochrome decorated earthenware, as well as a number of highly ornamented vases have been discovered. At a distance from the ruins of the city was found a cavern containing evidences of prehistoric inhabitants.

Under the convent of St. John, Herr Dorpfeld found a temple with Doric and Ionic columns.

Horse Traced 2,000,000 Years.

New Haven, Conn.—Prof. Richard Lull of Yale published a new genealogy of the horse. He has traced the ancestry of the animal back 2,000,000 years. He says while the horse originated in Europe, North America was the theater for its development.

Such Is Fame.

A policeman who witnessed a motor accident in Paris, in which Mlle. Rejane's chauffeur was implicated, had gravely noted down the following:

"In the automobile was a lady, Rejane or Rejane, who says she is an actress." Obviously, this Parisian policeman did not feel quite convinced that "Rejane or Rejane" really was an actress, even although she did say so.—Genie woman.

A Lesser Evil.

Messenger—Your wife has eloped with your chauffeur.

Husband—Thank fortune! Now I won't have to break it to her that the cook has left.—Harper's Weekly.

The Comment of All.

"Every man has some delusion."

"Yes, especially if it wears petticoats."

ONLY THE NATURAL EFFECT.

Little Wonder That Dinner was Somewhat Off Mentally.

The wild-eyed man looked hard from his table at the woman across the little room at the pink ink table d'note. "Have you heard about these dynamite explosions going on all over the city?" he asked her. "I heard the one Saturday night," she said. "I couldn't help hearing it." "Well," declared the bright-eyed man, "don't give it away, but I am the cause of all those explosions." "For heaven's sake," whispered the woman to her companion, "did you hear that? Does he carry the bombs around with him, you think? I want to go home!" "I know that man," remarked her companion quietly. "No wonder he has attacks of brain storm now and then. He's been drinking this table d'note ink and eating these dinners for two solid years."—N. Y. Press.

Failure of the liver to filter bile from the blood, where it is poison, and pass it into the intestine, where it is food.
